Mildura Vic.
7th November 1970

He is standing for an extraordinary election to the council caused by the retirement of Mr Sam Kirby, 65, of Swan Hill.

Mr Anderson, a former vice-president of the Aborigines' Advancement League, said he would advocate abolition of the Ministry of Aboriginal Affairs.

Existing ministry staff would be transferred to the Social Welfare Ministry proposed by the State Government.

He said that an Australian Claims Commission should be set up along the lines of the American Indian Claims Commission.
